第6問 次の英文を読んで、以下の問いに答えよ。

Tokyo visitors can now join a special tour of one of the Japanese city's modern wonders: its public toilets.

(①) Penelope Panczuk recently went on the Tokyo Toilet Shuttle for a two-hour visit of artistic public toilets. Panczuk got the idea after seeing “Perfect Days,” the Oscar-nominated film about a toilet cleaner in the city's Shibuya district. “In the U.S. or in France where I originally come from, you just don't go,” Panczuk said of using public toilets. She stated that in Tokyo, the toilets are “extremely clean, they're very safe and each one is so different that it feels like it's a new discovery each time.”

The shuttle began in March with visitors coming to Japan in record numbers. A drop in the value of the Japanese yen has made it less costly for many lovers of Japanese culture to visit for the first time.

(③) The nonprofit Nippon Foundation started the Tokyo Toilet Project in 2020. It asked creators including Pritzker Prize-winning architect Tadao Ando to develop new toilets. The goal was to increase accessibility and artistry in 17 public toilets in the Shibuya district. The project was not meant to be something foreign visitors would want to see. But Shibuya's government saw a chance to increase interest in the area beyond its famous street crossing. “The highlight for visitors is that they can be driven around the less-visited parts of Shibuya and enjoy the entire district while checking out the toilets,” said Yumiko Nishi, a tourist association manager for the area.

(④) People on the tour pay $32.76 to visit nine different toilets, including one with clear walls that turn opaque* when users enter. Another is operated by voice commands. Takao Karino, visiting from Japan's western city of Osaka, wondered at the wide entrance of a facility created by British designer Miles Pennington. "There's nothing else like this in Japan," 69-year-old Karino said about the tour. "It's unusual, it's unique, it's honestly brilliant."
