Ⅳ 次の対話文を読んで、後の問いに答えよ。

解答番号 22 ~ 26

Tina: Morning, Betty. How was your weekend?

Betty: Not bad. I had a date with another one of the guys I met through the dating agency.

Tina: Really? What is that, about three men you've met since you joined?

Betty: Actually, it's four. But I still haven't found one I really like.

Tina: Tell me about the guy you met on the weekend. What's his name?

Betty: Oh, it's Ted. He was alright, I guess. I like that he works so hard – he's a teacher and he also volunteers at a youth center. I really admire him...

Tina: But...?

Betty: He's just too serious. I mean, all he wanted to talk about was politics and classical music. I don't really like people who are too serious.

Tina: Well, he's got to be better than the other guys you've met. What was the name of the one you went out with last week? Herbert?

Betty: Harry. He wasn't that bad. I kind of like shy guys.

Tina: You told me he was more than just shy. Did he even talk to you?

Betty: No, he didn't say much. I have to admit I wasn't very happy with that. I think he's more comfortable with books than people.

Tina: What about that other guy? Anthony, wasn't it? He sounded like a fun guy.

Betty: Yeah, he was. I liked that about him. But he was the opposite of Harry – he talked too much. I didn't like that.

Tina: What about the fourth guy? Wasn't he a professional baseball player or something?

Betty: Yeah. Marvin is very athletic. I like a guy who wants to go out and do things – play sports, go hiking...

Tina: So, what was the problem? You went hiking with him, didn't you?

Betty: Yeah. It turns out he's not very patient. He wanted to get to the end of the trail and I just wasn't fast enough. That wasn't much fun.

Tina: Wow! You've had some bad luck. Are you sure you want to stay with this dating agency? Maybe I should introduce you to some of my men friends.
